

FBIM Expands Loss Control Services to Provide an Additional Tool For Your Tool Box

While First Benefits Insurance Mutual has used loss control in the past to enhance the company's underwriting capabilities, we now have the ability to expand these services to provide additional value to our agents and insureds. FBIM has access to safety consultants that can work with policyholders to define risk and develop measures that can be used to minimize loss potentials.

The approach is simple. The loss control consultants are able to analyze loss history to better understand the issues from an accident and business standpoint. Then, they develop solutions that will help remove or control the risk. Safety is a cultural platform, and the consultants work closely with many levels of an organization to help introduce solutions that will bring about cultural change in a time frame that best suits the business.

Here are a few of the expanded loss control services FBIM has to offer:

- On-site surveys for hazard identification and work practice evaluations
- Review of current safety policies and program development
- Written reports with appropriate summary of activities, listing of hazards, and loss problems with recommendations on how to improve
- BENCHMARK reporting for comparative purposes
- Supervisory Safety Training
- Extensive Loss Control Safety Resources, accident analysis and investigation to identify trends and problem areas
- Assistance with OSHA compliance
- Access to a library of safety materials, including videos

If you would like to find out more about this value enhancement being offered by FBIM, please contact underwriting for details.
